PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, South Dakota's stockmen, through their industry, thrift and enterprise, have increased sheep and wool production and distributed it into all the far-flung corners of the state, advancing it even in the more intensive, "small-farm" areas of the East River Region from a minor to a major industry; and

WHEREAS, South Dakota, as a result of this commendable effort to diversify the stock raising industry, has become a leader in lamb and wool production and thereby materially increased the state's income; and

WHEREAS, the use of wool for clothing and lamb for the table has been on the decline throughout the country when the production and consumption of these valuable livestock products are of such vital importance to South Dakota's economy; and

WHEREAS, the industry west of the river has enlisted the support of the ranch women with the result that an auxiliary, known as the "Women's Auxiliary of the South Dakota Sheep Growers' Association", the mission of which is to promote the practical use of woolen clothing and the consumption of lamb and mutton;

NOW THEREFORE, I, Sigurd Anderson, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim the week of April 1 through April 8, 1952, as and heartily second and support the praiseworthy efforts of South Dakota's producers in the development of this worthy and necessary enterprise which is playing a major part in the farm prosperity of this progressive commonwealth.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota to be affixed this 25th day of March, 1952.
